Chief Commissioner's Report

2010 has been a fruitful year resting on the efforts of every Scout member. Apart from various celebrating events and services that have planned ahead for the Centenary of Hong Kong Scouting in 2011, different improvement projects on facilities and programmes were carried out to equip Hong Kong Scouting for future development. Moreover, Scout members have been actively participated in both international and mainland exchange programmes, including the relief work in Sichuan earthquake affected areas.

March On to Another Century

The Hong Kong Scout Centenary Jamboree was successfully held from 27 December 2010 to 1 January 2011 at Penny's Bay, Lantau Island and over 5,000 campers participated in this kick-off event of the Centenary Year. Jamboree enables Scout members to embrace nature and to build team spirit. This valuable experience at the campsite would definitely be one of the joyful memories in the Scouting life of all campers. Besides the Jamboree, various celebrating events and services will be held in 2011 to put our Scout Promise "helping other people" into practice continuously.

Strategies for Further Development

Scout Movement in Hong Kong tackles changing needs of youth development by continuous improvement of facilities and programmes. The renovation project at Hong Kong Scout Centre and the redevelopment project in Wanchai have been launched this year. Leaders would enjoy better facilities in the delivery of programmes and trainings upon completion. Regional Symposiums were held in 5 regions to share with Scout leaders the latest information and strategies on management, administration, programmes and training of the Association, whilst group leaders shared their needs and concerns in managing Scout groups. Different initiatives were made for a more diversified development in programmes and activities, including the exploration of sea activities and air activities. An agreement was signed between the Association and Oxford Aviation Academy in July 2010, in the hope of providing Scout members with more professional and advanced aviation programmes. The completion of "Sectional Review" and "Scout Image Audit" would definitely provide important reference for further development of the Movement.

Public Recognition and Accreditations

As a vehicle to attain further public recognition, "Qualifications Framework - Initial Evaluation Preparatory Committee" was set up with the intention to register 3 courses under Qualification Framework. In the long run, we hope to include our leader training programme and sectional highest awards as well in the Qualification Register, and it would definitely be beneficial for the personal growth and career development of Scout members. Furthermore, with the intention to take a proactive role in encouraging Scout members to participate in adventure-based activities and programmes, the Adventure Education Instructor Team was formed in the hope of establishing a recognized standard of Adventure Education Instructors and facilitating the utilization of adventure facilities by Scout members in different units.

Broaden the Vision, Love the Country

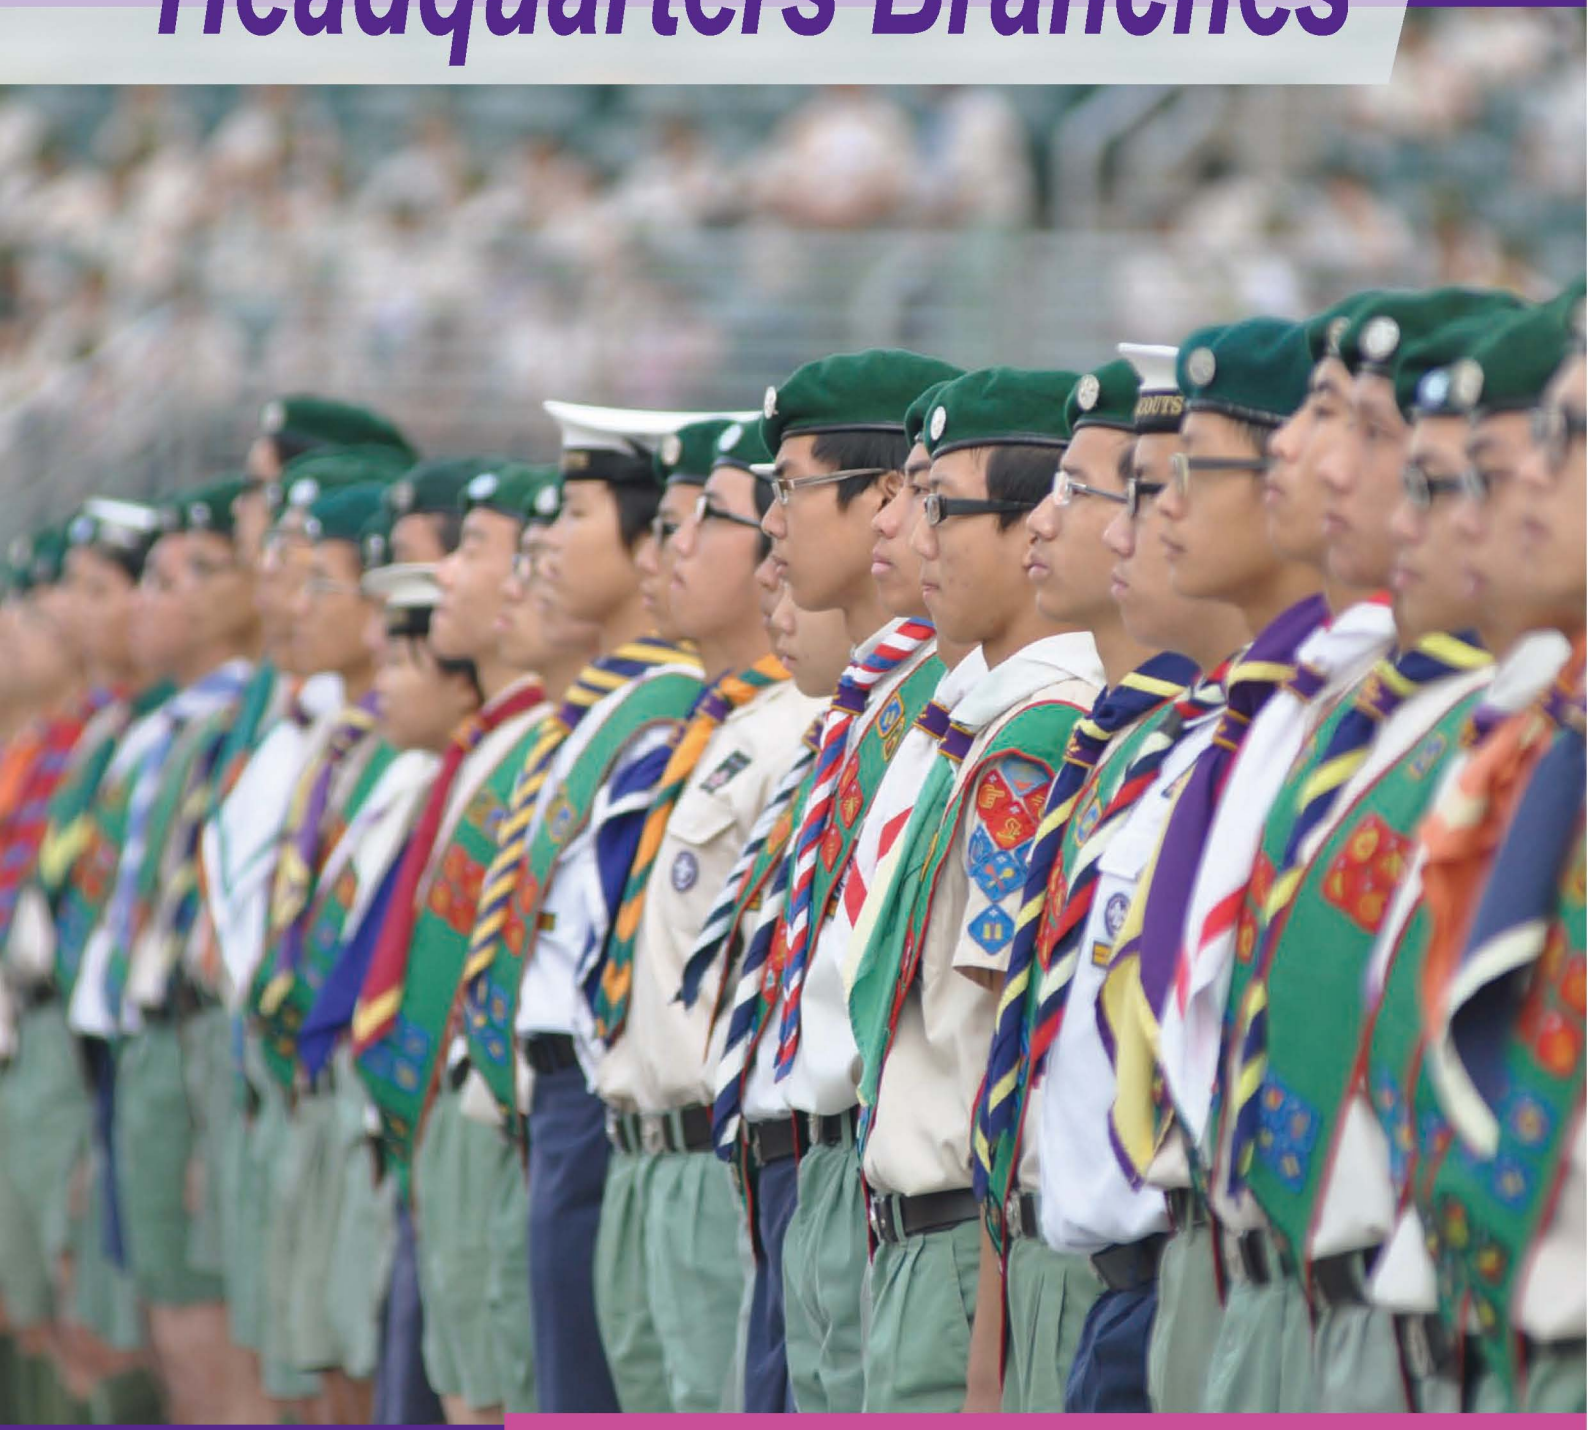

"Committee NSO-Visit" by committee members of the Asia-Pacific Region to the Association was made on 23 and 24 July 2010 for the purpose in continually improving the quality of Scouting. Through actively participating in both international and mainland activities, Scout members not only have broadened their visions, but also have developed a sense of belongings to the country. A total of 355 Scout members joined a visiting tour to the World Expo 2010 at Shanghai, which was co-organized by Shanghai, Hong Kong and Macau. At the same time, the Association continued to provide support to Sichuan Reconstruction Projects. The ground-breaking ceremonies of Mianyang City Youth Activities Centre and Deyang City Youth and Children's Palace were held in December 2010. Construction works are expected to be completed by late 2011, and the centres will then serve as a base for the 5-year Hong Kong-Sichuan Youth Exchange Programmes.

This is the last annual report in my tenure as Chief Commissioner and it highlights the major achievements of the Association in 2010-2011. I have here much to thank all Commissioners, Leaders, Lay Members, and Professional Scouters for their contributions. We had been putting efforts for the betterment of Hong Kong and for continuous success of our Movement in previous years, aiming to echo the ever-changing needs of young people. Amidst the celebration of Centenary, may I take this opportunity to invite you all to join hand in hand to "March on to Another Century".

Headquarters Branches

Administration, Personnel and Information Technology

Staff Development Programme

We continue to implement our multi-year employee training program with Development Dimensions International (DDI) as our partner. This year, another 6 employees were certified as in-house facilitators. In addition, 3 management modules for 65 supervisory employees (including our first service leaders' training) and 1 professional skills module for 60 general staff were held.

Organizational Transformation

The Association is on track in the implementation of Phase 1 of our "Organizational Transformation" Plan. Job description and analysis workshops were held for all supervisory staff with the aid of our transformation partner, the Hay Group. We are now initiating Phase 2, which will involve revamping our performance management and compensation system.

Human Resources Management System

Specifications for the proposed database-driven and web-based Human Resources Management System have been developed, and the customized software is currently being tested. This system, when completed, will provide enhanced capabilities and user-friendliness, and will allow on-line enquiries, e-submissions and e-approvals of leaves, etc.

Information and Communications Technologies

Over the last year, we have conducted qualitative and quantitative studies which enabled us to develop an Information and Communications Technologies Strategic Plan. This Plan, covering 2010 to 2015, has been approved and is in Year 1 of implementation. We have made significant progress with several key projects as planned, including the Financial Management System and the Training Module of the Scout Membership Information System (SMIS). We have also started to develop the specifications for the proposed Group Management System, for the use of the Scout groups.

The Hong Kong Scout Archives

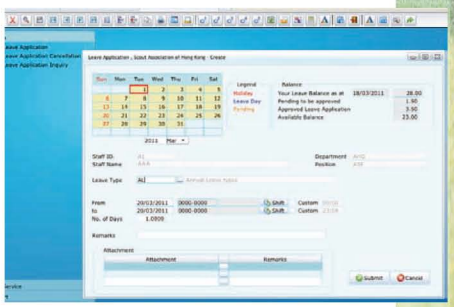

In the past year, we continued to receive generous donations of badges, photographs and magazines. In addition, several interviews were conducted, and the recordings were added to our verbal history collection.

Scout Subsidy Schemes

2010-2011's raffle campaign was designated the "Hong Kong Scout Centenary Raffle Campaign", the selling price for each raffle ticket was raised to $10, the first increase in many years. The raffle draw was held on 26 March 2011 at the lobby of the B P International House, with 100 prizes valued over $520,000.

Finance

The scope of the Finance Branch is to manage various accounts of the Association, to monitor the accounts of B P International House, and to support the Hong Kong Scout Foundation. It is also responsible to assist the Finance Committee for setting up and to execute the financial guidelines of the Association for effective financial control.

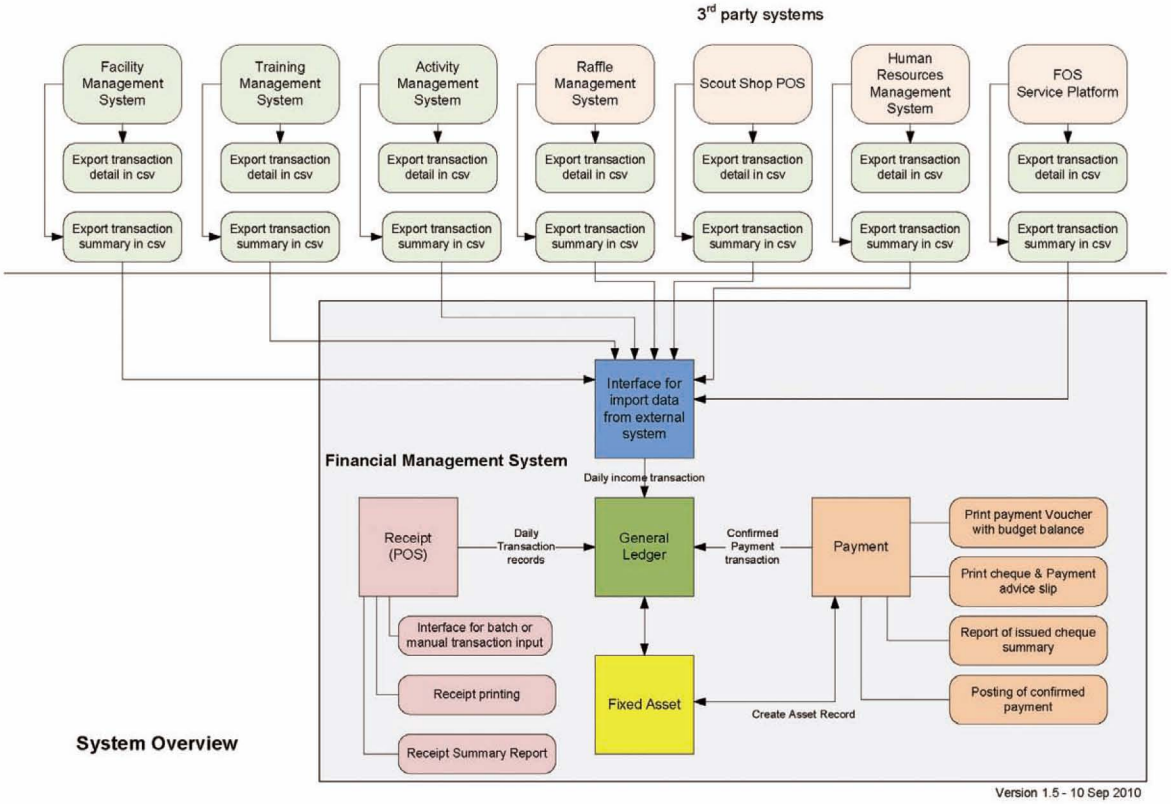

Financial Report

Total income for the Association was $264M for the year 2010-2011. It mainly comprised of $214M revenue from B P International House and $23M from Government Subvention/Grants. The surplus of the Association was $57M. Income and expenditure of the Association were in line with the budget. After transferring to various designated funds and reserves, an overall surplus of $40M was recorded for the fiscal year. The net worth of the Association was $652M.

Dividend and interest income from investment financial assets were similar to last year. However, the bank interest income was dropped by over 80% due to low deposit rates. The Association would continue being prudent and conservative as investment principle to gain stability.

Financial Management System

To enhance efficiency, facilitate financial data consolidation and strengthen the Corporate Governance, a new Financial Management System would be adopted by the Association Headquarters, Regions, Campsites and other Subsidiaries such as the Friends of Scouting, Commissioners' Club, and the Baden-Powell Scout Club of Hong Kong. In 2010-2011, Finance Branch had discussed with relevant end users for several times to understand their requirements, and selected a more appropriate system service provider. In the coming year, the Branch would continue to facilitate in modifying the new System, amend the existing workflow and provide training for staff concerned.

System Overview

Estate

The Estate Branch is responsible for the development, facility management, repairs and maintenance of the Scout properties. Major scope includes booking service and facility management of Association Headquarters, and large-scale renovation projects of the Hong Kong Scout Centre. The Branch is also responsible for overseeing the development of campsites, activity centres, integrated service centres and other Scout properties. Provision of technical advices to various Scout units is also one of the major duties.

Association Properties Development

The Association commissioned the Association Properties Development Steering Committee comprising members of various professions to plan and implement the large scale development projects of the Association. The redevelopment project of the former Hong Kong Island Regional Headquarters site at 34 Oi Kwan Road in Wanchai is in the first priority of the development projects. Under the supervision of the project consultants, the demolition works of the Headquarters building was completed in January 2011. During the period, the Branch, associated with the project consultants, framed the design of the new building to cope with the development direction of the Association. Despite the difficulties inborn at the site, the Branch tasks to construct a functional cum high quality Headquarters building to include the 3 elements of Scout Centre, Leadership Training Institute, and Performing Arts Centre.

The second development project, under the jurisdiction of the said Committee, is the all-round development and improvement plan for the Hong Kong Scout Centre. The core energy-saving projects including replacement of air-conditioning chillers and installation of heat pumps system commenced this year. The said works was scheduled for completion in late-2011 to cope with the operation of the B P International House.

The Association Properties Development Steering Committee comprehends that as the Centre has been operated for years, most of the building facilities are aging seriously due to wear and tear and extended usage for which it leads to critical repair and maintenance problems and impairs the cost-effectiveness in a long run. It is aimed to come up with an improvement plan with regards to the priorities of the project scopes and the financial situation of the Association. On the other hand, the Association was investigating to carry out addition & alteration works at the Centre and approval was sought regarding the application to the relevant Government departments which establishes a foundation to mark the long term development of the Centre.

Apart from the above projects, the Branch engaged to plan for some other projects such as the Redevelopment Project of Hong Kong Island Northern District Headquarters, and the Development of Wo Hop Shek Land Lots, so as to explore more suitable land resources to provide venues for Scout members as well as for the public, and to strive for the continual and sustainable development of Scouting in Hong Kong.

Capital Improvement of Campsites and Centres

The Branch managed various capital improvement projects for campsites and centres. At Tai Tam Scout Centre, the former tennis court site was converted into a camping ground to further enhance the greenery in the locality. An electrical system modification work at Pak Sha Wan Tam Wah Ching Sea Activity Centre was completed to enhance its kitchen modernization work. A series of building structures and outdoor facilities improvement works at the SAHK Wong Siu Sang Leadership Training Institute was completed, including the drainage reinforcement works along the hillside near the slopes, replacement of railings at the pier and plantation of shrub at the bound, waterproofing repairs of the roof of the canteen block. At Gilwell Campsite, a series of slope stabilization works and drainage improvement works within the campsite territories was completed in March 2011. For the slope-related improvements funded by Leisure and Cultural Services Department, the slope remedial works in the proximities of the main entrance and basketball court at Tung Tsz Scout Centre was completed in December 2010. Also the flooring renewal works at the basketball court of the Tung Tsz Scout Centre was then completed in March 2011 with the funding from the Sir David Trench Fund. Some other completed minor works were the improvement works to the retaining wall & replacement of shelter canopy at Mrs Lau Hon Wah Scout Training Centre, the toilet improvement works to Wo Lok Estate Office of East Kowloon Region, and the demarcation work & fixing of fencing at Wo Hop Shek Land Lot No. 4679 in D.D. 51. On the other hand, in order to equip the front line staff and personnel of the campsites, centres and units with the knowledge of tree reservation, the Branch will organize and invite professionals to carry out introduction on tree survey, risk assessment, improvement plan, maintenance strategy, tree & plantation trimming and felling and other related subjects.

Hong Kong Island Region

"It takes three generations to make a gentleman." In the past centenary, the Hong Kong Scout Movement has been successful in cultivating leaders of the society. The Scout Movement has endured the challenges in the past century as it upholds the philosophy of Baden-Powell, namely "to promote the development of young people in Hong Kong for the betterment of our society" well. In order to suit the footsteps and the needs of the society, the Scout Movement is also in tune with the times and keeps on adjusting their ways of training and programme delivery. To strive for the excellence, a group of commissioners of Hong Kong Island Region has participated in a "Commissioners' Retreat" on 27 February 2011 at Tai Tam Scout Centre. The group has reviewed the aim and vision of our Association and has explored future working plans. The group has identified 29 working items and the commissioners of all ranks have already actively taking up following actions according to the time frame set in the retreat.

Our mission is to cultivate young people so as to lead them to become responsible citizens. In the past year, the Region's Programme Department has organized 120 events, including competitions, training courses, workshops, seminars and visits etc. for our youth members. The total number of participants has reached 11,322. These activities have provided our youth members with ample opportunities to learn to care for others, demonstrate their Scoutcraft skills, train up their will and fitness, foster collaboration, cultivate their interests, as well as mould their temperaments. These have facilitated all-round development among our youth members in all the 5 key aspects, including physical, intellectual, social, spiritual, and aesthetic development.

In order to achieve our mission in cultivating our youth members, our frontline leaders are indispensible. Excellent youth members are originated from the hard work of our excellent leaders; while excellent leaders are originated from the hard work of our excellent Training Team. Training of leaders is both important and invaluable. Our Training Team has the finest foundations and tradition. With the selfless and experienced seniors and our current team members, our Training Team has been successful in both keeping our tradition and modifying our training method. The Training Team has launched some working plans in encouraging our leaders in obtaining the Wood Badge. In this year, 31 leaders of our Region have successfully completed their Wood Badge training, an increase of 35% as compared with the year before. Besides, our Training Team has organized 36 training courses, workshops and activities, with 1,189 participants taking part.

As with our tradition, our Scout groups have obtained excellence results in different major competitions organized by the Association Headquarters. In this year, 99th Hong Kong Group has won the Chief Commissioner's Shield. Indeed, this is the 14th consecutive victory of Hong Kong Island Region in this competition since 1983. While we feel proud and pride with our remarkable achievement, we are also thankful to the hard work and contributions of our frontline leaders.

In order to encourage our Scout groups in participating in community services, Hong Kong Island Region has set up the "HKIR Service Award for Scout Group 2010" to give recognition to active participating Scout groups. In this year, over 40 Scout groups have received recognition and awards. Our Region, districts, and Scout groups have participated in 489 community services, with 10,365 persons participating in those services. The total service hours have reached over 81,020 hours.

Our temporary headquarters at the Hong Kong Scout Centre and the Youth Square at Chai Wan are now in service. With the limited resources and rooms, we shall try our best to ensure effective and efficient allocation and use of our resources. Besides, we have also launched our new website and a quarterly newsletter so as to serve as a platform of information distribution. It is hoped that the cohesion and the team spirit among our Scout groups, our districts and the Region can be further enhanced with the new means of communication implemented.

To enhance the facilities at the Tai Tam Scout Centre, our Region has planned and launched a series of work projects, including the conversion of the tennis court into the camping site, the replacement of the pontoon at the pier, and the revamp of the rope course. It is hoped that these work projects can further improve our facilities and encourage higher usage of our campsite. In this year, the usage of our Centre has reached 50,563 people.

It is hoped that our Region can implemented the working plans as devised from the "Commissioners' Retreat" effectively and timely so that we can walk in tune with the times and meet the challenges ahead hand-in-hand in the next century.

Independent auditor's report to the Council of Scout Association of Hong Kong

We have audited the financial statements of Scout Association of Hong Kong (the "Association") set out on pages 3 to 43, which comprise the statement of financial position as at 31 March 2011, and the statement of income and expenditure, statement of comprehensive income, statement of changes in funds and reserves and statement of cash flows for the year then ended and a summary of significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

Responsibility of the Executive Committee for the financial statements

The Executive Committee is responsible for the preparation of financial statements that give a true and fair view in accordance with Hong Kong Financial Reporting Standards issued by the Hong Kong Institute of Certified Public Accountants and for such internal control as the Executive Committee determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

Auditor's responsibility

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audit and to report our opinion solely to you, as a body, in accordance with our agreed terms of engagement, and for no other purpose. We do not assume responsibility towards or accept liability to any other person for the contents of this report.

We conducted our audit in accordance with Hong Kong Standards on Auditing issued by the Hong Kong Institute of Certified Public Accountants. Those standards require that we comply with ethical requirements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. The procedures selected depend on the auditor's judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation of the financial statements that give a true and fair view in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by the Executive Committee, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial statements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

2 Significant accounting policies

(a) Statement of compliance

These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with all applicable Hong Kong Financial Reporting Standards ("HKFRSs"), which collective term includes all applicable individual Hong Kong Financial Reporting Standards, Hong Kong Accounting Standards ("HKASs") and Interpretations issued by the Hong Kong Institute of Certified Public Accountants ("HKICPA") and accounting principles generally accepted in Hong Kong. A summary of the significant accounting policies adopted by the Association is set out below.

The HKICPA has issued two revised HKFRSs, a number of amendments to HKFRSs and two new Interpretations that are first effective for the current accounting period of the Association. Of these, the following development is relevant to the Association's financial statements:

- Improvements to HKFRSs (2009)

As a result of the amendment to HKAS 17, Leases, arising from the "Improvements to HKFRSs (2009)" omnibus standard, the Association has re-evaluated the classification of its interests in leasehold land as to whether, in the Association's judgement, the lease transfers substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership of the land such that the Association is in a position economically similar to that of a purchaser. The Association has concluded that its interests in leasehold land, which are registered and transferable ownership interests in land located in the HKSAR and subject to the HKSAR Government's land policy of renewal without payment of additional land premium, are no longer classified by the Association as operating leases as the Association considers that it is in a position economically similar to that of a purchaser. In accordance with the amendment to HKAS 17, this change in accounting policy has been applied retrospectively. Corresponding amounts of previous periods have been re-classified with the balance of prepaid operating lease payments as at 31 March 2010 of $22,796,000 (2009: $20,090,000) re-classified as property, plant and equipment on the Association's statement of financial position and the related amortisation expense for the year ended 31 March 2010 of $604,000 reclassified to depreciation expense in the statement of income and expenditure. This change in accounting policy has no other material impact on the current or previous periods as the lease premiums in respect of all such leases are fully paid and are being amortised over the remaining length of the lease term.

The Association has not applied any new standard or interpretation that is not yet effective for the current accounting period (see note 21).

(b) Basis of preparation of the financial statements

The measurement basis used in the preparation of the financial statements is the historical cost basis except for financial instruments classified as available-for-sale securities (note 2(e)) which are stated at fair value.

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with HKFRSs requires management to make judgements, estimates and assumptions that affect the application of policies and reported amounts of assets, liabilities, income and expenses. The estimates and associated assumptions are based on historical experience and various other factors that are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances, the results of which form the basis of making the judgements about carrying values of assets and liabilities that are not readily apparent from other sources. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

The estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimate is revised if the revision affects only that period, or in the period of the revision and future periods if the revision affects both current and future periods.

Judgements made by management in the application of HKFRSs that have significant effect on the financial statements and major sources of estimation uncertainty are discussed in note 17.

(c) Investments in debt and equity securities

Investments are recognised/derecognised on the date the Association commits to purchase/sell the investments or they expire. Investments in debt and equity securities are initially stated at fair value, which is their transaction price unless fair value can be more reliably estimated using valuation techniques whose variables include only data from observable markets. Cost includes attributable transaction costs. These investments are subsequently accounted for as follows, depending on their classification:

(i) Held-to-maturity debt securities

Dated debt securities that the Association has the positive ability and intention to hold to maturity are classified as held-to-maturity securities. Held-to-maturity securities are stated in the statement of financial position at amortised cost less impairment losses.

Impairment losses for held-to-maturity securities are recognised when there is objective evidence of impairment and are measured as the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the present value of estimated future cash flows, discounted at the asset's original effective interest rate (i.e. the effective interest rate originally computed at initial recognition of the asset). Objective evidence of impairment includes observable data that comes to the attention of the Association about events that have an impact on the asset's estimated future cash flows such as:

- significant financial difficulty of the debtor; or
- significant changes in the technological, market, economic or legal environment that have an adverse effect on the debtor.

If in a subsequent period the amount of an impairment loss decreases and the decrease can be linked objectively to an event occurring after the impairment loss was recognised, the impairment loss is reversed through the statement of income and expenditure. A reversal of an impairment loss shall not result in the asset's carrying amount exceeding that which would have been determined had no impairment loss been recognised in prior years.

(ii) Available-for-sale securities

Other investments in securities, being those held for non-trading purposes, are classified as available-for-sale securities. At the end of each reporting period the fair value is remeasured, with any resultant gain or loss being recognised in other comprehensive income and accumulated separately in equity in the investment revaluation reserve, except foreign exchange gains and losses resulting from changes in the amortised cost of monetary items such as debt securities which are recognised directly in the statement of income and expenditure.

(c) Investments in debt and equity securities (continued)

Dividend income from these investments is recognised in accordance with the policy set out in note 2(m)(v) and, where these investments are interest-bearing, interest calculated using the effective interest method is recognised in the statement of income and expenditure in accordance with the policy set out in note 2(m)(iii). When these investments are derecognised, the cumulative gain or loss is reclassified from equity to the statement of income and expenditure.

When there is objective evidence that available-for-sale securities are impaired, the cumulative loss that has been recognised in the investment revaluation reserve is reclassified to the statement of income and expenditure. The amount of the cumulative loss that is recognised in the statement of income and expenditure is the difference between the acquisition cost (net of any principal repayment and amortisation) and current fair value, less any impairment loss on that asset previously recognised in the statement of income and expenditure. Objective evidence of impairment includes observable data that comes to the attention of the Association concerning the underlying financial stability of the investee as well as a significant or prolonged decline in the fair value of an investment below its cost.

Impairment losses recognised in the statement of income and expenditure in respect of available-for-sale equity securities are not reversed through the statement of income and expenditure. Any subsequent increase in the fair value of such assets is recognised directly in other comprehensive income.

Impairment losses in respect of available-for-sale debt securities are reversed if the subsequent increase in fair value can be objectively related to an event occurring after the impairment loss was recognised. Reversals of impairment losses in such circumstances are recognised in the statement of income and expenditure.

(d) Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment are stated in the statement of financial position at cost less accumulated depreciation and impairment losses.

Depreciation is calculated to write off the cost of items of property, plant and equipment, less their estimated residual value, if any, using the straight line method over their estimated useful lives as follows:

– Leasehold land	Over the unexpired term of lease
– Leasehold improvements	Over the shorter of the unexpired term of lease and their estimated useful lives
– Buildings	50 years

(d) Property, plant and equipment (continued)

– Machinery and equipment	15 years
– Furniture and fixtures	4 - 5 years
– Motor vehicles	4 years
– Computer equipment	3 years
– Programme and training equipment	4 years

Both the useful life of an asset and its residual value, if any, are reviewed annually.

The carrying amounts of property, plant and equipment are reviewed for indications of impairment at the end of each reporting period. An impairment loss is recognised in the statement of income and expenditure if the carrying amount of an asset, or the cash-generating unit to which it belongs, exceeds its recoverable amount. The recoverable amount of an asset, or of the cash-generating unit to which it belongs, is the greater of its fair value less costs to sell and value in use. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the assets. An impairment loss is reversed if there has been a favourable change in the estimates used to determine the recoverable amount.

Gains or losses arising from the retirement or disposal of an item of property, plant and equipment are determined as the difference between the net disposal proceeds and the carrying amount of the item and are recognised in the statement of income and expenditure on the date of retirement or disposal.

(e) Leased assets

An arrangement, comprising a transaction or a series of transactions, is or contains a lease if the Association determines that the arrangement conveys a right to use a specific asset or assets for an agreed period of time in return for a payment or a series of payments. Such a determination is made based on an evaluation of the substance of the arrangement and is regardless of whether the arrangement takes the legal form of a lease.

(i) Classification of assets leased to the Association

Assets that are held by the Association under leases which transfer to the Association substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership are classified as being held under finance leases. Leases which do not transfer substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership to the Association are classified as operating leases.

(ii) Operating lease charges

Where the Association has the use of assets held under operating leases, payments made under the leases are charged to the statement of income and expenditure in equal instalments over the accounting periods covered by the lease term, except where an alternative basis is more representative of the pattern of benefits to be derived from the leased asset. Lease incentives received are recognised in the statement of income and expenditure as an integral part of the aggregate net lease payments made.

(f) Inventories

Inventories are carried at the lower of cost and net realisable value.

Cost is calculated using the first-in, first-out method and comprises all costs of purchase, costs of conversion and other costs incurred in bringing the inventories to their present location and condition.

Net realisable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business less the estimated costs of completion and the estimated costs necessary to make the sale.

When inventories are sold, the carrying amount of those inventories is recognised as an expense in the period in which the related revenue is recognised. The amount of any write-down of inventories to net realisable value and all losses of inventories are recognised as an expense in the period the write-down or loss occurs. The amount of any reversal of any write-down of inventories is recognised as a reduction in the amount of inventories recognised as an expense in the period in which the reversal occurs.

(g) Receivables

Receivables are initially recognised at fair value and thereafter stated at amortised cost less allowance for impairment of doubtful debts, except where the receivables are interest-free loans made to related parties without any fixed repayment terms or the effect of discounting would be immaterial. In such cases, the receivables are stated at cost less allowance for impairment of doubtful debts.

Impairment losses for bad and doubtful debts are recognised when there is objective evidence of impairment and are measured as the difference between the carrying amount of the financial asset and the estimated future cash flows, discounted at the asset's original effective interest rate where the effect of discounting is material. Objective evidence of impairment includes observable data that comes to the attention of the Association about events that have an impact on the asset's estimated future cash flows such as significant financial difficulty of the debtor.

Impairment losses for receivables whose recovery is considered doubtful but not remote are recorded using an allowance account. When the Association is satisfied that recovery is remote, the amount considered irrecoverable is written off against receivables directly and any amounts held in the allowance account relating to that debt are reversed. Subsequent recoveries of amounts previously charged to the allowance account are reversed against the allowance account. Other changes in the allowance account and subsequent recoveries of amounts previously written off directly are recognised in the statement of income and expenditure.

(h) Trade and other payables

Trade and other payables are initially recognised at fair value and subsequently stated at amortised cost unless the effect of discounting would be immaterial, in which case they are stated at cost.

(i) Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents comprise cash at bank and in hand, demand deposits with banks and other financial institutions, and short-term, highly liquid investments that are readily convertible into known amounts of cash and which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value, having been within three months of maturity at acquisition. Bank overdrafts that are repayable on demand and form an integral part of the Association's cash management are also included as a component of cash and cash equivalents for the purpose of the statement of cash flows.

(j) Employee benefits

Salaries, annual bonuses, paid annual leave, contributions to defined contribution retirement plans and the cost of non-monetary benefits are accrued in the year in which the associated services are rendered by employees. Where payment or settlement is deferred and the effect would be material, these amounts are stated at their present values.

(k) Income tax

The Association is exempted from Hong Kong Profits Tax by virtue of Section 88 of the Inland Revenue Ordinance.

(l) Provisions and contingent liabilities

Provisions are recognised for liabilities of uncertain timing or amount when the Association has a legal or constructive obligation arising as a result of a past event, it is probable that an outflow of economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation and a reliable estimate can be made. Where the time value of money is material, provisions are stated at the present value of the expenditure expected to settle the obligation.

Where it is not probable that an outflow of economic benefits will be required, or the amount cannot be estimated reliably, the obligation is disclosed as a contingent liability, unless the probability of outflow of economic benefits is remote. Possible obligations, whose existence will only be confirmed by the occurrence or non-occurrence of one or more future events are also disclosed as contingent liabilities unless the probability of outflow of economic benefits is remote.

(m) Revenue recognition

Revenue is measured at the fair value of the consideration received or receivable. Provided it is probable that the economic benefits will flow to the Association and the revenue and costs, if applicable, can be measured reliably, revenue is recognised in the statement of income and expenditure as follows:

(i) Sale of goods

Revenue is recognised when goods are delivered at the customers' premises which is taken to be the point in time when the customer has accepted the goods and the related risks and rewards of ownership. Revenue is stated after deduction of any trade discounts.

(ii) Hostel revenue

Hostel revenue from rooms and other ancillary services is recognised when the services are rendered.

(iii) Interest income

Interest income is recognised as it accrues using the effective interest method.

(iv) Donations

16 Financial risk and capital management

(a) Financial risk management

Exposure to foreign exchange, credit, liquidity and interest rate risks arises in the normal course of the Association's business. The Association is also exposed to equity price risk arising from its equity investments in listed securities.

The Association's exposure to these risks and the financial risk management policies and practices used by the Association to manage these risks are described below.

(i) Foreign exchange risk

Foreign exchange risk arises where future commercial transactions, recognised assets and liabilities are denominated in a currency that is not the functional currency of the Association. The Association mainly operates in Hong Kong and is exposed to foreign exchange risk primarily with respect to the United States dollar on held-to-maturity financial assets.

In the opinion of the Executive Committee, the Hong Kong dollar is reasonably stable with the United States dollar under the Linked Exchange Rate System. In this respect, it is assumed that the pegged rate between the Hong Kong dollar and the United States dollar would be materially unaffected by any changes in movement in value of the United States dollar against other currencies, and therefore the Association considers the risk of movements in exchange rates between the Hong Kong dollar and the United States dollar to be insignificant.

(ii) Equity price risk

The Association is exposed to equity price changes arising from equity investments classified as available-for-sale financial assets (see note 8).

The Association's available-for-sale financial assets are listed on the Stock Exchange of Hong Kong and have been chosen based on their longer term growth potential and are monitored regularly for performance against expectations.

At 31 March 2011, it is estimated that an increase/decrease of 20% (2010: 20%) in the equity price would have increased/decreased the Association's Investment Revaluation Reserve by $25,189,000 (2010: $24,886,000).

The sensitivity analysis above indicates the instantaneous change on the Association's Investment Revaluation Reserve that would arise assuming that the change in the equity price had occurred at the end of the reporting period and had been applied to re-measure those financial instruments which expose the Association to equity price risk at the end of the reporting period. It is also assumed that the fair values of the Association's available-for-sale financial assets would change in accordance with their historical correlation with the equity price, that none of the Association's available-for-sale financial assets would be considered impaired as a result of the decrease in the equity price, and that all other variables remain constant. The analysis is performed on the same basis for 2010.

(a) Financial risk management (continued)

(iii) Credit risk

The Association's credit risk is primarily attributable to trade and other receivables and listed debt investments. Management has a credit policy in place and the exposures to these credit risks are monitored on an ongoing basis.

In respect of trade and other receivables, individual credit evaluations are performed on all customers requiring credit over a certain amount. These take into account the customer's past payment history, financial position and other factors. Trade receivables are due within 30 days from the billing date. Normally, the Association does not obtain collateral from customers.

Investments are normally only in liquid securities quoted on a recognised stock exchange and with counterparties that have high credit ratings.

The Association's exposure to credit risk is influenced mainly by the individual characteristics of each customer. At the end of the reporting period, the Association has a concentration of credit risk as 39% (2010: 42%) of total trade and other receivables was due from the Association's five largest customers.

The maximum exposure to credit risk is represented by the carrying amount of each financial asset in the statement of financial position after deducting any impairment allowance.

Further quantitative disclosures in respect of the Association's exposure to credit risk arising from trade and other receivables are set out in note 11.

(iv) Liquidity risk

Prudent liquidity risk management implies maintaining sufficient liquid cash. Due to the nature of the underlying operations, the Association aims to maintain flexibility in funding by keeping sufficient cash and bank balances to fulfill its commitments and current working capital requirements.

The table below analyses the Association's financial liabilities into relevant maturity groupings based on the remaining period at the end of the reporting period to the contractual maturity date. The amounts disclosed in the table are the contractual undiscounted cash flows.

	2011 $'000	2010 $'000
Less than one year:
Trade payables	29,930	23,448
Receipt in advance	17,803	10,497
Accrued expenses, deposits and temporary receipts	1,962	1,916
Amounts due to other Scout units	22,000	11,073
	71,695	46,934

(a) Financial risk management (continued)

(v) Interest rate risk

At the end of the reporting period, the Association did not hold any assets or liabilities which would expose the Association to significant interest rate risk.

(b) Capital management

The Association's objectives when managing capital are to safeguard the Association's ability to continue as a going concern in order to maintain an optimal fund structure.

(c) Fair values

(i) Financial instruments carried at fair value

The amendments to HKFRS 7, Financial Instruments: Disclosures, require disclosures relating to fair value measurements of financial instruments across three levels of a "fair value hierarchy". The fair value of each financial instrument is categorised in its entirety based on the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement. The levels are defined as follows:

- Level 1 (highest level): fair values measured using quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical financial instruments
- Level 2: fair values measured using quoted prices in active markets for similar financial instruments, or using valuation techniques in which all significant inputs are directly or indirectly based on observable market data
- Level 3 (lowest level): fair values measured using valuation techniques in which any significant input is not based on observable market data

At 31 March 2011, the only financial instruments of the company carried at fair value were available-for-sale equity securities of $125,943,000 (2010: $124,429,000) listed on the Stock Exchange of Hong Kong (see note 8). These instruments fall into Level 1 of the fair value hierarchy described above.

16 Financial risk and capital risk management (continued)

(ii) Fair value of financial instruments carried at other than fair value

The carrying amounts of the Association's financial instruments carried at cost or amortised cost are not materially different from their fair values as at 31 March 2011 and 2010 except as follows:

	2011		2010
	Carrying amount $'000	Fair value $'000	Carrying amount $'000	Fair value $'000
Assets
Held-to-maturity financial assets (listed)	-	-	16,070	16,519

(d) Estimation of fair values

The fair value of available-for-sale financial assets held by the Association is based on quoted market prices at the end of the reporting period. The quoted market price used for available-for-sale financial assets held by the Association is the current bid price.

17 Critical accounting judgements and estimates

In the process of applying the Association's accounting policies, management has made the following accounting judgements:

Held-to-maturity financial assets

The Association follows the guidance of HKAS 39, Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement on classifying non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments and fixed maturity as held-to-maturity. This classification requires significant judgement. In making this judgement, the Association evaluates its intention and ability to hold such investments to maturity.

If the Association fails to keep these investments to maturity other than for specific circumstances explained in HKAS 39, it will be required to reclassify the whole class as available-for-sale. The investments would then be measured at fair value instead of amortised cost.

- Purchase of property, plant and equipment and improvement projects	1,428	166,451

(b) Operating lease commitments - where the Association is the lessee

Within one year	2,289	688
After one year but within five years	3,769	623
	6,058	1,311

All lease agreements are held in the name of the Association. All obligations, commitments and the respective operating lease charges in respect of these lease agreements are borne by other Scout units. The leases typically run for an initial period of three years, with an option to renew the lease when all terms are renegotiated. None of these leases includes contingent rentals.

(c) Operating lease commitments - where the Association is the lessor

The Association leases out catering areas under an operating lease. The lease typically runs for an initial period of five years, with an option to renew the lease after that date at which time all terms are renegotiated. Lease payments are usually increased every five years to reflect market rentals. The lease does not include contingent rentals.

The future aggregate minimum lease receipts under non-cancellable operating leases in respect of catering areas are as follows:

	2011 $'000	2010 $'000
Within one year	5,683	5,748
After one year but within five years	14,700	19,740
	20,383	25,488

20 Amounts due from/to related parties

Related parties represent other Scout units, mainly The Friends of Scouting, Commissioners' Club, Education Centre, N T Scout Development Fund Commission and Asia-Pacific Regional Scout Foundation.

The amounts due from/to other Scout units are unsecured, interest-free and repayable on demand.

21 Possible impact of amendments, new standards and interpretations issued but not yet effective for the year ended 31 March 2011

Up to the date of issue of these financial statements, the HKICPA has issued a number of amendments and interpretations and one new standard which are not yet effective for the year ended 31 March 2011 and which have not been adopted in these financial statements.

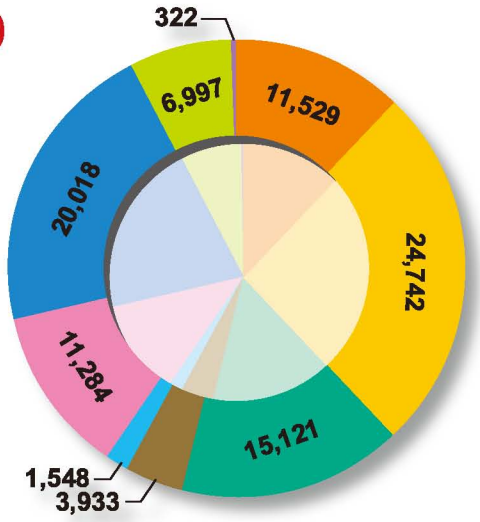

The Association is in the process of making an assessment of what the impact of these amendments is expected to be in the period of initial application. So far it has concluded that the adoption of them is unlikely to have a significant impact on the Association's results of operations and financial position.
