

Active Citizenship Badge Series – Community Emergency Responder Badge

The Scout Association of Hong Kong focuses on enhancing civic awareness and social responsibility among youth. To this end, we introduced the “Active Citizenship Badge Series” in May 2024, which encourages youth members to actively participate in social affairs, developing their leadership skills and teamwork through various challenges. We now issue the “Active Citizenship Badge Series” – the “Community Emergency Responder Badge”, which aims to educate youth members on fire prevention and emergency response knowledge, enhancing their ability and confidence in responding to emergency situations, as well as teaching them on how to perform cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) and operate an automated external defibrillator (AED).

Overview and Learning Content of the “Community Emergency Responder Badge”

Fire Prevention Knowledge: Understanding and assisting with the promotion of fire prevention.

Emergency Response Skills: Acquiring skills for rescuing others and oneself to become more confident in rescuing others during emergencies.

CPR & AED: Learning and assisting with the promotion of cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) and automated external defibrillator (AED).

A webpage dedicated for the “Active Citizenship Badge Series” is available on the website (QR code provided below), detailing information of the badge.

Arrangement for Purchase of “Community Emergency Responder Badge”

This badge is not yet available for sale at the Scout Shop. Please note that the official release date and arrangement will be announced on the website in due course.

Badge Placement

The badge shall be worn on the right sleeve below the region and district badges, in the designated area for badges issued by the World Organization of the Scout Movement. A maximum of four badges issued by the World Organization of the Scout Movement or the “Active Citizenship Badge Series” can be worn in such area. The order of placement shall be based on the order of achieving the badges, with the earliest placed in front, and from front to back.

We look forward to cultivating more positive citizens who possess a sense of social responsibility with you, in order to contribute to society's sustainable development. For any questions or enquiries, please contact us via email at prog@scout.org.hk.
